The Markets.

Special to THE SENTINEL:
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Wednesday, July 12.
—Receipts today are only about 6,000 cattle, market steady. The best steers this week have sold at $5.50 to $6.65, bulk of steers $4.65 to $5.50, as there has been a large percentage of good beef steers. Good to choice heifers and yearling steers have shown more strength than any other kind of cattle, and have advanced 40 to 60 cents in the last two weeks, selling at $4.50 to $5.35 for best. Cows bring $3.00 to $4.25, grass cows $2.50 to $3.25, bulls $2.25 to $4.00, veals stronger, at $4.75 to $5.50. In the last two days stockers and feeders have been slow and dull, common stuff 10 to 15 lower, and some bargains in this class will be secured this week. From this time forward, however, receipts of this class will be better, as well as the demand. Prices range from $3.00 to $4.00 mainly, occasional sales up to $4.50, stock calves slow and dull at $2.75 to $3.75.
There is a general feeling that hogs will sell higher before the end of the present month, but they have not made much gain in the last week, market lower yesterday, higher again today, top today possibly $5.52½, bulk of sales $5.42½ to $5.47½. Receipts are pretty light, and are easily absorbed by the packers, quality very good, medium and light weights predominating.
Sheep market keeps on gaining, although lambs are 10 or 15 cents lower in the last two days. Record prices are being paid every day for range grass wethers, at $5.25 to $5.50. Native ewes sell at $4.50 to $5.00, wethers $5.00 to $5.50, but proportion of these is small. Spring lambs bring $6.50 to $8.35. Although the market appears strong, dealers have little faith in it, and would not be surprised at a break any time.

Death of Miss Mary Estelle Cowan.

The friends in Holt county and the dear ones in distant parts of our country sincerely mourn the death of Miss Mary Estelle Cowan, the loved and loving daughter of Mr. John F. and Mrs. Estelle Cowan. She had just passed that point that rounds the life into sweet womanhood. She was born in Oregon, Mo., June 3rd, 1884, at the home of her grandparents. Dr. Asher and Mrs. Goslin. The family moved west when she was a little child. She was educated in the public schools and graduated from the High school in Salt Lake City, Utah. Going East she finished her education at Bryn Mawr College, Pennsylvania. She was an accomplished young lady. The home often rang with the sweet music. She and her brother, Asher, who is a fine violinist, often charmed the home and friends in the long winter evenings. She on the piano and he on the violin. The family moved to Atlanta, Ga., about 18 months ago, and were getting ready to move back to Salt Lake City when she was taken suddenly with typhoid pneumonia. The very best medical aid was called and some hopes were given that she would recover, and at a moment unlooked for she passed into a sweet sleep. From the voiceless lips of the loved one came no word, but the listening love could hear the rustle of a wing and a sweet voice saying your darling is not here. It is well! "Them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with Him." There are three children left to bless the home, Asher and two girls, Frances and Asenath. They brought the loved one to Oregon, Mo., for interment. The funeral was held at the home of the Hon. John F. Cowan, the father of Mr. Cowan. The choir of the Presbyterian church furnished the music and the pastor, Rev. Jas. McFarland conducted the service. The body of the loved one was placed in a vault in the family lot. The dear life which had been woven into a sweet family tie was kissed away to the home above and although dead she yet lives—in the happiest, sunniest hour of life's voyage, she who was sunshine, vine and flower in the home—is now rich and every moment jeweled with joy and crowned with peace. Farewell but not forever. We shall meet again.

"My life! My love! My precious girl!
How dear thou wast to me
That mother only knows whom God
Hath blessed with such as thee!
As the violet fades and the daisy dies
When the blast of Yule has blown;
The Caudrife hands of death have staid
My darling Mary Estelle.

Card of Thanks.

We cannot express in words, the gratitude we feel, to all the dear friends who kindly assisted at the funeral of our beloved daughter Mary, as our stay here was so short, we could not see you to thank you all personally for your kindness and thankfulness.

We take this method of expressing to each and all of you, our sincere thanks.
JOHN F. COWAN,
STELLA G. COWAN.

An Old Mother in Israel Passes Away

Mrs. Martha G. May Vining died at her home in Oregon, surrounded by her children and friends on July 12th, 1905. She had been sick for a number of weeks. Mrs. Vining was born April 29th, 1826, in Delaware, O. She was married to Mr. William R. Vining on Oct. 17th, 1850. The husband died a few years ago. They moved to Missouri in 1860, and she has resided here ever since. She had four children, one son who died about eight years ago, and three daughters who are all living. Mrs. Lin Carroll, Mrs. Orilla McDermott and Mrs. Elmore Kable. Sister Vining was a member of the Baptist church. When she was a child the mothers were like Solomon's virtuous women who laid their hands to the spindle and distaff, and knew no other way. In those days the human hand performed all the work that was done. The methods of travel and communication were as primitive as those of manufacture. In those days they did not stop at hotels, they slept under the wagons—carried their own food with them, fried their own bacon, made their own coffee and ate their meals in the snow and rain. Those were the days when they sold their corn for 10 cents a bushel, four bushels of potatoes for 25 cents; 33 dozen eggs for $1.00 and 100 pounds of pork for $1.50. This good old sister was permitted in the providence of God to see marvelous changes in every avenue of life. She was a woman of strong convictions and dearly loved her Bible. A loving wife, a kind mother and a true neighbor and was dearly beloved by all who knew her. She had passed the stone that marks the highest point in life's journey, and being weary for a moment laid down on her pillow to rest and the angel of love kissed her soul into the land where sorrow is unknown. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth, Yea, saith the spirit that they may rest from their labors, for their works follow them." The children and loved ones are not called to sorrow over the death of this old Saint as those who have no hope. Their loved one is with the Master. The funeral was held in the Presbyterian church, Rev. Jas. McFarland preached the sermon and the choir furnished the music. The body was laid to rest in the family lot in Oregon.
